Four Others Reported Missing After Firemen Lose Fight to Save Oil Ship; Twelve Men Injured in Explosion

Oil Barges Are Towed Away By Tugs

Toronto, July 23.—The blazing oil tanker Enroco sank at her moorings here late to-day and fire-fighters feared there was danger the oil on the surface of the water might ignite and endanger other craft in the bay. At least two firemen are believed to have been carried to their deaths in the hold, while four others are reported missing. A terrific explosion which followed a fire aboard the tanker injured at least twelve others.

Tugs towed off barges out of Ashbridge's Bay, in which the Enroco was moored. Among the injured are: Harry Gray, Clarence Sedgewick, J. E. Russell, John Stewart, William Woodley, James Davidson, Leon Price, Carl Pavia, William Jodrell, Fred Langstaff, David Kennedy and Robert Barrett, all of Toronto.

Data Collected On Health Insurance

Limitations of State Scheme to Be Determined on Actuarial Data

Hope to Be Ready With Legislation For B.C. Next Year, Says Minister

The extent, benefits and contributions under the proposed B.C. state health insurance scheme will be considered shortly at a conference between Hon. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary, and other officials working on the survey, Dr. Weir announced this morning.

In addition to the mass of information collected by the royal commission on the subject some years ago, the chief has collected data on the state of hospital care, which will be used for actuarial work on the scheme. Eventually, it is expected between $6,000 and $7,000 cases will be covered by the scheme.

"We hope to be ready with legislation next year," Dr. Weir said. "We are now trying to discover how it can be operated successfully. The superannuation system got into a mess because it was not actuarially sound from the start, and we do not want to have the same thing happen to health insurance."

Robert Smith, right, a former judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, are engaged in an investigation of the Ontario Hydro-electric Power Commission in connection with what is known as the Ashbridge deal, in which certain properties were taken over. TRUCK STRIKE AT DEADLINE

Minneapolis, July 23.—Five hundred guardsmen moved in from the outskirts of the city to-day, armed to check violence, as police convoys were drawn up to move trucks through the ranks of striking drivers. The showdown came on the day of the deadline set for the strikers to return to work and be assured permanent employment. The drivers were warned by truck owners that unless they should return to-day, other drivers would replace them immediately.

Mayor A. G. Rainbird said in a public statement armed police were ready to convey any "necessary trucks" and are "not going to permit themselves to be beaten up by their demands to do their duty." One man was read and sixty-seven others recovering from injuries as guardsmen prepared to take steps against any outbreak such as that of last Friday.

NO CHANGE YET IN AID SCALES

Provincial Relief Administrator Advises City to Carry on Existing System

Victoria was instructed to carry on its relief administration on its present basis until notified to change, in a circular letter from E. W. Griffith, administrator for the unemployment relief branch, provincial department of labor, received at the city to-day.

The letter in part stated: "In view of the uncertainty existing in the relief situation and the action of the Dominion Government in neglecting to provide a new agreement for the current fiscal year and their present policy of extending in broken periods the time limit whereby they will contribute to relief expenditures as well as the change in basis of cost, it has been decided that it is inadvisable to make any change in the regulations or scales at the present time."

"In accordance with the foregoing, you are hereby notified that there will be no change in the existing regulations or scales until such time (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Australia Bats Out Good Margin In Fourth Test

England Dismissed With 188 Runs For Four Wickets When To-day's Play Ended While Aussies All Out For 584; Bradman, Who Batted 304, Only Thirty Below Own Test Record, Is Hurt

Leeds, Eng., July 23.—Facing a first innings' deficit of 384 runs, England had painstakingly compiled 188 runs for the loss of four wickets at the close of play to-day in the fourth test cricket match of the season. Australia's effort had been dismissed for 584 runs in reply to England's first innings total of 706. The Australians were to the driver's seat as the three-quarter mark was reached in the match which may be decisive, the teams having been on even terms in the first three games.

Don Bradman carried his score to 304 runs, only 30 below his own test match record, and England had a staggering handicap when they went into bat, just before lunch.

Action on Federal Building Here Delayed Until More Information Secured

Hon. H. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, informed the city in a telegram received to-day.

The wire was an answer to communications from Victoria protesting against a suggestion that the building be located on the old Songhees reserve.

"Your telegram received and have carefully noted representations made with regard to proposed building at Victoria. No action being taken by department until further information obtained," the telegram read.

Vancouver Athlete Falls To Death

Edison Gordon of Rugby and Rowing Fame Victim of Accident on Ramsay Island

Canadian Press Vancouver, July 23.—Another mountain climbing accident—this time taking the life of a prominent young athlete—shocked this city to-day.

Edison Gordon, aged twenty-six, captain of former provincial rugby championship teams and holder of rowing titles, fell to his death while prospecting yesterday on Ramsay Island, about 135 miles northwest of here at the upper end of the Georgia Strait.

Not quite a month ago, June 26, Alec Dalgleish plunged to his death on the unclimbed Mount Waddington. The body of Dalgleish, who was a leading figure in Alpine club associations, was buried last week on the mountain-side.

Debris of how Gordon died have not yet reached here, but it is known he was with a prospecting party, including his brother Boyd, and somewhere lost his footing and crumpled to instant death.

SIXTEEN DIE IN BUS CRASH

Half Dozen Persons Missing After Accident at Ossining, N.Y.; Others in Hospitals

Ossining, N.Y., July 23.—At least sixteen persons—men, women and children—rode to flaming death in a big motor bus yesterday, and the burned and twisted wreckage was searched to-day for more bodies.

The bus, carrying more than sixty persons from Brooklyn to a scheduled baseball game at Sing Sing Prison, plunged wildly down a sharp hill in Ossining, dived off a forty-foot embankment and burst into flames as it landed in a lumber yard.

Twelve severed bodies were removed as soon as the fire could be checked. Four of those rescued alive died in hospitals.

Half a dozen passengers still were unaccounted for to-day. They are feared dead. Many of the rescued are not expected to survive.

Screaming passengers, their clothing ablaze, fought their way out of broken windows after the gas tank had exploded.

Some were frantically flung to safety by onlookers, but the flames engulfed the bus so rapidly that rescue was almost impossible.

The bus, last in a procession of seven carrying a gay party of Young Democratic League members, and their friends, took the wrong road as it entered Ossining. With its passengers singing and laughing, it sped up a long ramp over the New York Central Railroad tracks. At a sudden right turn the heavily laden vehicle swerved and crashed through a rail fence.

The United States victory sent the series to the final two singles matches to be played to-day at Australia leading two matches to one as a result of its two singles triumphs Saturday.

Frank Shields will play Vivian McGrath in the first match and Crawford will meet Sidney B. Wood Jr. in the final contest.

In the opening singles Saturday Shields bowed to Crawford, 6-1, 6-3, 12-11, and McGrath scored a surprising upset at Wood's expense, 7-5, 6-4, 1-6, 9-7.

SENT TO PRISON Vienna, July 23.—Expectation of at least a dozen hangings in Austria this week under the new compulsory death penalty decree of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss collapsed to-day when a man found guilty of bombing and arson, both crimes carrying the death penalty, was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment.

REACHED END OF CRIME TRAIL

LATE JOHN DILLINGER

BRITISH READ OF DILLINGER'S DEATH

London, July 23.—Killing of John Dillinger, called Britain's outlaw, was given news to-day in England. First editions of afternoon papers blazoned the news of the execution.

In The London Evening Standard the sensational end of the marauding gunman ran a dead end with the latest prospects of England and Australia in the cricket tests in news prominence.

Reports that 230 had died in the United States had been were pushed far into the background by the news Dillinger was dead.

DILLINGER AIDES ARE NOW HUNTED

Chicago, July 23.—A vigorous drive to exterminate all the hoodlum henchmen of John Dillinger was launched by the government to-day as Chicago police and federal agents issued conflicting statements on whether the public arch-enemy was lured to his death by a woman in a red dress.

Man Held In Hospital Escapes

Vancouver Police Hunt For J. Rose, Who Got Away in Night Clothes

Vancouver, July 23.—The man-hunt begun yesterday morning for James Rose, charged with attempted murder, when he escaped from police guard in the General Hospital, was continued with vigor to-day.

Provincial, municipal and city police were working together, combing the metropolitan area and lower mainland as well as the Fraser Valley for the fugitive who roamed down Vancouver streets in a nightgown early Sunday morning with a considerable trailing him.

Given the slip in the hospital, Constable J. D. Nicholson gave fast pursuit to Rose, alias McKnight, and declared one of his revolver shots must have hit the fugitive as a red stain appeared on his gown.

Trap Sprung By Federal Secret Service Men and Bullets Find Mark Before Desperado Able to Bring His Own Automatic Into Action; Face Disguised, But Detectives Not Deceived

Two Women Suffer Wounds in Legs

By William Conway Associated Press Writer Chicago, July 23.—Dillinger is dead!

He swaggered from a neighborhood theatre here yesterday evening into the raking fire of government guns. Too late he saw the gleaming steel of the trap set for him.

A hand went for his gun. Too late. Three bullets tore into his body—one in the neck, two in the body. He staggered and fell.

It was the end of John Dillinger.

The hour was 10:40 p.m., central daylight saving time. The place was just outside the Bingham Theatre, a neighborhood movie at Webster and Lincoln Avenues on the northwest side, in territory where the blood of many a Chicago gangster has flowed.

Had the climax of this bank robbery-desperado-killer's career been prearranged it could have been no more sensational. There was even an audience gathered about the vicinity of the theatre, drawn by the promise of so many Department of Justice agents that for a time some believed a hold-up was planned.

DILLINGER DISGUISED Dillinger, taller than usual, his hair dyed a darker hue, tell-tale scars on his cheeks lifted by plastic surgery, gold-rimmed spectacles framing his nose straightened, his eyes, apparently shut, a carefully groomed black mustache adorning his leering lip, and the white of his finger tip highlighted by thin strands of hair, he stood with two women and snatched down the street.

He passed, apparently without recognition, Marvin E. Purvis, chief of the Chicago bureau of the Federal Department of Justice. Purvis, seated in a parked car, moved his right arm and pointed his pistol at the man who snatched down the street.

Suddenly the mask of innocence dropped from Dillinger's face. He darted into an alley, reaching for a pistol for a due to the death. As he did so, a five-shot fusillade cut him down.

Three of the bullets struck him. Two missed their mark and whizzed into the terrified throng gathered near the street.

Between Prince George and Whitehorse, about 255 miles, weather conditions are favorable. It is likely the flight will follow the Yukon valley trail north of Hamilton to Whitehorse.

THE STARS Edmonton, July 23.—The U.S. flight of ten Martin army bombing planes, making a good-will tour, is expected to arrive here at 10:30 a.m. to-day.

NO CHANGE IN AID SCALE

RE-REGISTRATION
"All recipients of relief are to be cut off such relief at the end of this month and new applications are to be taken. Application forms are now being printed and will be forwarded shortly. In order that the pressure of work will not be too great at the end of the month, you are permitted to accept applications as soon as you receive the forms."

"Anything you may be able to do to expedite this work will be appreciated and we now have experienced provincial investigators stationed throughout the provinces, you are invited to consult them on any matters concerning re-registration."

BEST WORK FOR AID
"We have received complaints that some recipients of relief are under the impression they do not have to perform work for the relief afforded them, as I wish to make it quite clear that if a man is required to perform work and refuses to do so although physically able, he may be cut off relief immediately and his family taken care of by the insurance of scrip."

"In no case should they be paid in cash."

"In provincial territory, we still permit recipients of relief to earn an amount equivalent to their food allowance by honest labor but of course, this policy is entirely optional in as far as cities and municipalities are concerned."

"The letter accompanying the list of regulations regarding the taking of applications for relief effective from the start of next month."

U.S. Airplanes On Flight Over B.C.

The first plane, piloted by Lt.-Col. H. R. Arnold, commander of the flight, took the air at 9:45 a.m. while the last plane left the ground at 9:55.

Lt.-Col. Arnold elected to fly through a mountain range to Prince George instead of over the peaks, although the former route of 450 miles is 100 miles longer and more treacherous. Poor visibility caused the decision.

Several hundred citizens, representative of the province, and a group of pilots met at the airport this morning to see the take-off. Departure was delayed for half an hour by engine trouble in Lt.-Col. Arnold's machine. No passengers were carried.

SIX KILLED IN CAR CRASH

Driver of Auto Critically Hurt When Car Hits Truck Near Yakima

Associated Press
Yakima, Wash., July 22.—Six persons, three men and three women, met death yesterday evening on the Yakima-Ellensburg Canyon highway when a truck and automobile met. Two bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Those killed, according to police, were:

Elmer Kay, high school senior; Mrs. Elsie Rankin, bus depot employee; Roy Chapple, fire chief; Mildred Kay, dairy co-operative employee; sister to Elmer; Al Roney, service station operator; and Wm. Lewis, taxi driver.

The bodies of two persons, Mildred Kay and Al Roney, burned beyond recognition, were identified by personal effects, the officer said.

The car was that of Judy Oliver, fire department employee, who to-day was at the point of death in Yakima. Roy Allen, Ellensburg, arrived at the scene a few minutes after the accident and tells of hearing cries for help coming from the wreckage. He said he helped pull the body of the fire chief from the machine.

WHEN GAS FLOATED OVER SEATTLE STRIKE AREA

The streamer of smoke arching toward the bridge in the picture above was composed of the fumes of a gas bomb strike which burst back at the police after it had been dropped into their midst by officers on the bridge. The incident occurred shortly before the first strike in which police cleared the strikers from the immediate vicinity of First 49 and 51.

Salvage Operations in Panama: Injured Persons Total 150

By A. V. McGinley, Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer
Panama, July 22.—Salvage and relief operations were under way today as the quake-ravaged city of David and at Puerto Armuelles, where the second major tremor in five days tumbled scores of houses on their inhabitants.

President Harnodio Arias, with an official party, flew to the quake zone yesterday and returned, reporting that approximately 150 persons had been injured in Saturday's disaster, although previous reports that several had been killed were unfounded.

Eye-witness accounts of the Saturday quake at Puerto Armuelles, however, emphasized the severity of the shock. R. J. Shreve, who had gone to Puerto Armuelles to examine plans damaged in an earlier quake, was caught in the second one.

"I was in one of a group of ten houses that collapsed," he related on his return to Panama.

"I saw ten more fold up and come alighting down in a roar of crumbling adobe bricks and plaster."

TANK FELL

"The water tank which held the entire town's supply tottered and fell on the earth heaved under it, spilling its contents over the general debris. Wherever one looked it was to see walls and structures shaking and sliding, finally coming in a dusty heap of ruins."

At David, residents were panicked, afraid to enter their homes, most of which were cracked or leaning dangerously.

Tents were being distributed all over the city.

ASK OTTAWA BEAR ALL DIRECT RELIEF

Union of Canadian Municipalities in Convention Also Calls For Municipal Taxing Powers

Canadian Press
Quebec, July 22.—Demands the Dominion Government shoulder the entire responsibility for administration and cost of direct relief and enact legislation providing for a greater field of taxation for municipalities, authority for raising necessary revenues in a just and practicable way must be granted, or a sufficient share of provincial revenues must be distributed to make up any deficiencies.

However, the resolution continued, powers of municipalities for raising direct revenues had been almost entirely restricted to taxation of real property, while provincial governments had retained the right to levy from wider sources, including income and license, without any definite commitments as to the allocation of an adequate portion of such revenues to municipalities.

NEED MORE REVENUE

Alderman J. J. McRae of Vancouver moved the resolution concerning the question of wider taxation powers for municipalities.

The resolution stated it was an essential principle that along with the responsibilities and burdens placed on municipalities, authority for raising necessary revenues in a just and practicable way must be granted, or a sufficient share of provincial revenues must be distributed to make up any deficiencies.

POWERS RESTRICTED

However, the resolution continued, powers of municipalities for raising direct revenues had been almost entirely restricted to taxation of real property, while provincial governments had retained the right to levy from wider sources, including income and license, without any definite commitments as to the allocation of an adequate portion of such revenues to municipalities.

NELSON SCENE OF BIG PICNIC

Associated Press
Nelson, B.C., July 22.—The city's population was raised by 5,000 Saturday when Consolidated Mining and Smelting employees of Tadanac, Trail and Rossland held their fourth annual picnic here, coming over in four special trains and by automobile. Nelson citizens provided guest cars for transportation to and from the park where the picnic was held.

Addresses of welcome were given by Mayor S. H. Smythe and S. G. Haycock, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated. Mayor K. L. O'Rourke replied.

The "bottle" women's tug-of-war team won the W. J. McHugh Cup, feature event of a big sports programme. Steamer trips up the west arm of Kootenay Lake were included in the day's fun.

Man Fleeing From Robber Loses Life

Associated Press
New York, July 22.—It was only a nickel Arthur Rosbury had, but he had been unemployed two years and after 10 o'clock last night it would have bought enough left-over vegetables for his wife to make soup for their six children.

So when a negro sprang from the shadows and demanded his money, Rosbury fled. He ran into a vacant building and hid. The negro went right after him.

NAVY READY

Washington, July 22.—President Roosevelt's declaration the United States navy would be raised to treaty power within three or four years found the navy ready to-day with up-to-the-minute plans for new ships and an extensive building programme already under way.

Under the Vinson Act, passed by the last Congress, 102 fighting craft are to be added to the naval forces by 1942.

Naval officials said a three or four-year programme would mean starting more ships each year than originally contemplated under the measure.

Thirty-two war vessels were laid down during the last fiscal year. The navy will open bids August 15 for four new cruisers, six submarines and two heavy and twelve light destroyers.

BIGGER AIR FORCE FOR U.S. IS URGED

Committee Named By War Department Makes Recommendations

Associated Press
Washington, July 22.—Warning that the first clashes of "the next great war" will take place in the air, the United States War Department's special aviation committee has recommended the building of an army air corps second to none.

The committee of eleven prominent civilians and generals, headed by Newton D. Baker, capped an exhaustive three months' inquiry into air corps conditions with a call for "more financial support" for military aviation.

"The next great war," the report asserted, "is likely to begin with engagements between opposing aircraft, either sea-based or land-based, and air; aerial supremacy is quite likely to be an important factor."

"An adequate aircraft industry is essential to national defense. The army's air force must be ready at all times for war service," the report read, and recommended that Congress be held chiefly responsible for the army air corps' condition and should appropriate the funds necessary to provide 1,000 new planes, chiefly fighting types, to give the army a minimum peace-time air arm of 2,250 planes. The estimated cost of the entire army should be brought up to authorized strength and at least 350 officers added to the air force.

C.C.F. Clubs Are To Meet in Vancouver

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 22.—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Clubs of British Columbia will hold their annual meeting here August 21 and September 1.

Announcement of these dates was made to-day by A. S. Trotter, chairman of the Stanley Park C.C.F. Club, who has just returned from the organization's national convention in Winnipeg. He stated, also, the projected executive would meet immediately after the club's convention to settle, among other matters, the question of the part the C.C.F. may play in the B.C. provincial election. The executive's meeting may be held here, although an important gathering has been promised the interior this year.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

CHILD'S DIET INCLUDES SIMPLE FOODS ONLY

The requirements of a well planned diet for children are simple and easy to remember. Breast milk or cow's milk is the child's chief food the first year. In addition, there is the daily serving of orange juice, the all-important cod liver oil daily in winter, cereals, egg yolk, steamed green vegetables of various kinds, stewed fruit and bread. All of these foods added to the diet of the well fed baby by the time he is one year old.

"Diet from Two to Nine Months," is available to any reader as a self-addressed, stamped envelope accompanying each request for this department.

FEED OF OLDER CHILD

From one to six years one may sum up the general requirements in the following way, which takes no account of variation of different foods, but the basis of food a child will require daily:

1. From one pint to one quart of milk daily.
2. The juice of one or more oranges, lemons or such strained, canned orange juice. Cooked fruit of any seasonable kind, suitable to young children, by leaflet, "Fruits and Vegetables Suitable for the Child," also available from this department.
3. A self-addressed, stamped envelope accompanying each request.

4. One or more green vegetables, least one vegetable should be of the leafy-green type, such as lettuce, spinach, beet tops, broccoli, which are valuable for their vitamins and minerals.
5. One egg daily for the child of two or more, provided that eggs are with the child. When they do not they offer no advantages whatever and other protein foods should be substituted for them.
6. A serving of meat or fish daily for the child over eighteen months or three or four times a week for a child of one year to eighteen months old.
7. Cereal once, preferably twice, daily. Rice and macaroni are cereals which served with meat or vegetables instead of cream and sugar.
8. Bread and butter. During the first months cod liver oil daily up to two years, and beyond if the doctor prescribes. "Let Baby Sleep in Warm Bedding."

CONCERTS GAIN IN POPULARITY

Vancouver Symphony Orchestra Giving Great Masters' Works in Open Air

By L. Norman Smith
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Vancouver, July 22.—Symphony concerts are fast gaining a popularity in Vancouver that is perhaps unique in the Dominion's realm of music.

Amid the rustic surroundings of a natural amphitheatre, whose perches are grass and logs and tree-tops, the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra is playing the music of the masters. And crowds exceeding 10,000 persons are listening.

A visitor strolling through Stanley Park yesterday afternoon might have believed himself transported to one of the sacred music centres of the old world. Wagner, Handel and Tchaikovsky haunted the stately British Columbia first through the medium of a full symphony orchestra playing in a newly-erected shell, modelled after the famous shell at Hollywood, California. The audience ranged about the shell in a segment several hundred yards long. Some lounged on the lawn, some stood and others leaned against rose vines about the tree-trunks. A child wandered from her mother's lap into a bed of fuschias and innocently cried out as she fell against a marker stick—but the devoted strains of Handel's Largo seemed unmarred and floated off through the trees into the blue sky above.

The concert was one of five or more being given this summer by which the Vancouver Symphony Society believes it will bring the appreciation of high-class music to many thousands. The concerts are free.

Allard de Ridder, conductor, believes their popularity will gather momentum rapidly. He himself is a composer as well as a director, and yesterday offered a delightfully vivacious interpretation of his own which received prolonged applause.

B.C. Event April 29 to May 4; Proposed Award Hailed in East

Eastern newspapers have shown considerable interest in the suggestion, under consideration by the British Columbia Drama Festival Association, that this body should grant annually an award to those throughout the Dominion who have done outstanding work in fostering the development of Canadian drama. Comments expressing interest and approval were read from Toronto and Montreal journals at the executive meeting of the Association held on Saturday evening at the Regent Hotel, 1001 Burrard Street.

The thanks of the executive committee were extended to the following high school and school inspectors for co-operation in the work of the association: Albert Gidycz, J. B. DeLong, H. H. McKenna, A. P. Mathews, V. E. Manning, T. G. Carter, F. H. Sheffield, W. G. Gamble, T. W. Hall, G. H. Grover, W. Wender, H. C. Fraser, and E. O. Daniels.

Recent Weddings

McDONALD-CARTER

At the Presbyterian Manse, Nanaimo, on Friday morning, Rev. W. T. Beattie united in marriage, Joyce, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam O. Carter, Stewart Avenue, and Edwin J. McDonald of Ladysmith. The ceremony was only attended by relatives of the bride and groom. Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a soft green gown ensemble, the coat revealing touches of French embroidery. Her hat was a picture model in green silk. Pure, gloves and shoes in white completed her attire.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Hazel Carter, as bridesmaid, who wore a frock of buttercup yellow embroidered crepe with a drooping hat. Following the ceremony the happy couple left for the mainland on their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Ladysmith.

GROVES-WHITEHEAD

Gladioli were mingled with ferns and palms in the Holy Trinity Cathedral, New Westminster, for the wedding Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock of Elizabeth McCowan, daughter of Mr. David Whitehead, K.C., and Mrs. Whitehead, and Mr. Tom Douglas Groves, son of Capt. and Mrs. J. D. Groves, Westholme, V.I. Rev. G. H. Dowker, formerly of Victoria, performed the ceremony, and acting as best man was Mr. Paul Phillips, Mr. Ben Barrett, Mr. Douglas McNeil and Mr. John Hulbert.

LACE GOWN

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of white lace, the gown flaring below the knees and forming a slight train. The back of the bodice was open, but caught at the neckline and waist with buttons. She wore long mittens of net lace. Her long net veil, which was the wedding veil of the groom's mother, was caught into a small cap of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was the gift of the groom's mother, a brooch of diamonds and sapphires. She carried a shower mull of crepe and butterfly roses, shearing, jasmine with roses, carnations and ferns.

Acting as bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Keilior and Miss Margaret Finlay. Miss Keilior chose a frock of Chantrelle, Jersey crepe, fashions, on long lines, with sleeves tight from the wrist to the elbow, and then full and opened with slashes. Buttons appeared down the back of the bodice and down the sleeves from the wrist to the elbow. Miss Finlay wore a gown of the same style, but of coral Jersey crepe. Both wore brown shoes and large brown picture hats, with a bow of coral crepe on Miss Keilior's and a bow of chartruse on Miss Finlay's. They carried shower muffs of gardenias and roses, the shower being of pines, roses and carnations.

THE RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Whitehead and Mrs. Groves. The former wore a dress of powder blue lace, with a deeper blue velvet girdle, the deeper blue appearing again in her sandals and the bow on her Milan hat. She wore a corsage bouquet of deep pink roses. The latter wore a dress of coral rose and sapphire, and a bow of coral crepe on Miss Keilior's and a bow of chartruse on Miss Finlay's. They carried shower muffs of gardenias and roses, the shower being of pines, roses and carnations.

GUINN-FERRIS

Seattle, July 22.—The white-and-gold altar at Trinity Church, the same at which the bride was christened, was massed with flame-colored gladioli and maple and candelabra of cathedral candles tied with white ribbon bows and flame-colored gladioli. The wedding of high noon of Miss Marion Ferris, grand-daughter of the late Col. E. G. Prior, former Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia, and Mr. Gerald Guinn, son of Mrs. A. J. Ogden, The Rev. C. Stanley Mook read the service.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William Charles Moresby, K.C., of Victoria, B.C., the bride wore a gown of white angel-skin lace, saddle-length, blue cut, with a short jacket. She wore a large white-etched tulle hat and carried white carnations and orchids.

Miss Barbara Frick was the only attendant, wearing an ankle-length dress of flame-colored organza with a long-sleeved tailored jacket of the same material and a small-off-the-face hat of matching organza. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Mr. Donald Healy was best man and the ushers were Mr. John White and Mr. James Edgington. After a motor trip to Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Guinn will be at home August 15 at The Rhododendron. For travelling, the bride wore a white-and-gold bolero suit with brown accessories and orchids.

Mrs. Guinn is a graduate of St. Margaret's School in Victoria, B.C., and the University of Washington, where she is affiliated with Delta Gamma and Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary. She also is a member of Seattle branch of the National League of American Pen Women.

Mr. Guinn, well known in Seattle advertising circles, attended Washington State College.

YOUR CHILDREN

BABIES SLEEP MORE RESTFULLY IN BEDS MADE FLAT, SMOOTH

I don't wonder that some children hate to go to bed in hot weather. If you've seen what I've seen here and there, in the way of beds and bedding for babies and little children you wouldn't wonder about their dislike.

You know that hot feel even of a smooth sheet over a firm mattress when you touch the bed on a hot night. You are sure that there must be a stove under it with a special burner where your toes touch.

Now would you feel if we had a mattress that sagged like a hammock in the middle, and over it a pad and a rubber sheet, perhaps another pad for good measure and then a rumpled sheet over that, holding in heat waves in every fold? A stifling mass of amorphous added won't help any.

Put this bed over in a corner somewhere, let some one close the door and leave us to our misery. Would we yell? No, we would feel like hunting up a weapon and going out for honest prey. We certainly would vault over those high sides (perhaps the winter shields are still on) and get out of that place so we could live.

A baby's or child's bed should be flat, smooth and wrinkleless and without any odor of urine.

There should be a bit of rubber sheeting drawn tight over the mattress (rinsed and sunned each day) but it should not extend up under the head. It causes head sweating.

If baby has a pillow or "teether" take it away. Use a piece of something (not wool) folded flat and covered by a cool slip. Pillows are seldom used for babies, but if he has

FLOOR SLEEPING ADVISABLE

Now pull his bed away from the corner, out where the night breeze, if any, can circulate freely. Of course, this is taking it for granted that any change in weather is not going to catch any one napping, or that the house is not on a mountain top where nightime winds blanket and confine.

Beds need to be made flat, sheets pulled tight, pillow slips smooth, and a whole general appearance of neatness should pervade.

In the daytime, the baby doesn't need a pillow to sit on in his perambulator. Fold something (not wooly) under him flat. A bit of cardboard is good for a baby anyway.

"Can I sleep on the floor, Mummy?" asks small Charles.

Don't get that "impossible" look in your eyes, mother. Why not? A clean sheet, a flat cool floor—well, you know best, but I know what I'd take if my bed was a hotbed of discomfort and the mercury was grinning from the top of the tube.
